

WITH OUR NEW ACTIJUBE® TECHNOLOGY, BOTH YOU AND YOUR CUSTOMERS ARE GONNA FEEL THE LOVE.

Advantages for You

Even Distribution

Evenness of distribution is just one way the Actijube is vastly superior to more traditional confectionary forms. Because the Actijube is formulated in multiple pre-mixes and then carefully combined under exact staging and timing specifications, it results in a very homogeneous mixture in which the actives are distributed evenly throughout the batch. Product consistency is built right into the process.

Greater Inclusion

Our advanced, proprietary technology also allows for a combination of multiple ingredients in precise ratios and with greater inclusion and density than standard pills, powders or capsules. In many cases, this eliminates the need for multiple dosing, an important issue when it comes to increasing end-user compliance.

Market Difference

In an extremely competitive marketplace with an over-abundance of choices for the consumer, a clear and obvious point of difference for your particular product is very important. Actijube technology, the first truly innovative pharmaceutical delivery system to come along in over a decade, easily differentiates itself from all other forms of delivery—pills, powders, capsules or liquids, giving a marketable advantage over your competition.

Better Variety

The Actijube can be produced in an endless variety of shapes, sizes and color to accommodate any need. It can also be flavored to mask almost any ingredient (or multiple ingredients) to fit just about any taste. It's extensive manufacturing options make it ideal for both human and veterinary applications.

Advantages for Your Customer

Faster Acting

Our patented technology creates a special low-temperature matrix that "secures" the active ingredients at a cellular level, protecting them until they can be absorbed in the small intestine. Recent laboratory tests prove that Actijube delivery is almost twice as fast as normal pills or powders.

More Effective

Not only is the Actijube faster, but blood serum concentration levels of test subjects indicate that it is also 115% more effective. Plus, since it bypasses the stomach completely, there is never any GI distress or bloating sensation associated with taking Actijube.

Easy to Use

No preparation is required for an Actijube. No water is needed. It's as easy to use as a gummy bear. Simply chew and swallow. Heat, moisture and relative changes in pH do not affect an Actijube, so it can be taken anywhere, anytime—making it very convenient as well.

Taste Appeal

The Actijube is a great-tasting, easily administered chewable. This makes it an ideal delivery medium especially for both the very young and the elderly—normally groups that have a low rate of compliance associated with pills, powders and capsules.
